Source of wealth (all amounts are GBP unless specified)

The Insurance (Anti-Money Laundering) Regulations 2008 requires all Isle of Man life companies to "make enquiries as to how an applicant has acquired the money to be used as premium for, or contribution to, a bond". This reflects the Isle of Man's commitment to maintain the highest possible standards of business practice and to counter money laundering and the financing of terrorism.

RL360 has adopted a risk-based approach to meet these regulations, categorising all countries that we will accept business from into one of three tiers. Each tier has different source of wealth requirements. We have categorised countries according to their level of compliance with international regulatory standards. www.rl360wrap.com sets out RL360s Source of Wealth procedures, including the premium levels above which documentary evidence is required to support the Source of Wealth information supplied in the Application Form.

You must complete the annual salary question in full, in all cases and for both applicants as applicable. You must also complete all other relevant questions within this section. Please use the notes section of this application form if you require more space (section 10 refers).

RL360 may ask for further information in regard to source of wealth where no back up is provided, irrespective of premium amount.

Important notes

Withdrawals

Please note that if you currently take regular withdrawals from your Nucleus Offshore Bond, RL360 will not automatically increase the level of withdrawals in line with the top up. Should you wish to increase the withdrawal level, please confirm this in a separate instruction.

Please note that adviser and discretionary fund manager (DFM) fees are treated as withdrawals and therefore count towards the total 5% withdrawal allowance.

However, adviser and DFM fees on a bond set up prior to the introduction of the Retail Distribution Review on 31 Dec 2012 will not count towards the total 5% withdrawal allowance unless there is an advice event after that date. A top up is classed as an advice event and from the date of the advice event, adviser and DFM fees count towards the total 5% withdrawal allowance.
